

Dutch manufacturer of industrial switches for smart buildings

AI Overview

Moujen is a leading Dutch manufacturer of industrial switches, offering high-quality limit switches, micro switches, and oil-tight switches suitable for smart building and industrial automation applications.

Moujen

Moujen, headquartered in the Netherlands, has been producing industrial switches since 1974. They specialize in:

- Industrial limit switches and micro switches
- Oil-tight and water-resistant switches rated to IP67, suitable for harsh environments
- Compact and lightweight designs for installation in tight spaces
- High reliability and long operational lifespan, with UL, CSA, VDE, C-UL, and CE certifications
- Pre-wired or connectorized options (M12 or M8) for easy integration into smart building systems These switches are ideal for applications requiring robust performance in industrial automation, including smart factories, automated logistics, and energy systems, where durability and precision are critical .

Dutch Smart Industries

While not a switch manufacturer per se, Dutch Smart Industries provides industrial automation solutions and supports companies in implementing smart building and IIoT systems. They offer:
