

Manufacturers of best-selling cold aisle data center racks

AI Overview

Top manufacturers of cold aisle data center racks include Modular Rack Systems (MRS), AIRSEAL, and AMCO Enclosures, all offering customizable, high-efficiency containment solutions.

Leading Manufacturers

1. Modular Rack Systems (MRS) MRS specializes in cold aisle containment systems designed to maximize cooling efficiency, reduce energy consumption, and extend equipment lifecycle. Their racks are made from high-quality aluminum and steel, with customizable top panels, swing or sliding doors, and options for lighting integration. MRS focuses on flexibility, durability, and energy savings, making them a popular choice for modern data centers seeking sustainable and cost-effective cooling solutions . 2. AIRSEAL AIRSEAL is dedicated exclusively to data center containment solutions, including cold aisle and hot aisle systems. They manufacture and install custom-built racks and containment panels, using proprietary doors and hybrid combinations of hard panels and curtains. AIRSEAL emphasizes strength, ease of installation, weight efficiency, and aesthetic design, with fast lead times due to in-house manufacturing . 3. AMCO Enclosures AMCO offers hot and cold aisle containment systems that prevent air mixing and improve cooling efficiency. Their solutions are suitable for both new and legacy data centers, eliminating the need for complex liquid cooling. AMCO also provides prefabricated power whips and modular enclosures, focusing on performance, durability, and compliance with electrical and environmental standards .
